The Radebeul business location is characterised by powerful companies in the main branches of printing machines and metal engineering, telecommunications as well as chemistry and the pharmaceutical industry.

Businesses, such as König & Bauer AG, Telekom AG, Vodafone, AWD.pharma and Arevipharma, are magnets to attract further companies to set up there.

Residing and Living in Radebeul

Radebeul is a preferred place of living in the Elbe river valley. This is not only owed to the more than 1,000 listed historical residential buildings there.

Radebeul is set in a magnificent landscape, has a highly developed infrastructure making life more pleasant and offers a sound social environment ranging from daycare centres for its youngest inhabitants via schools and high schools to a wide scope of family and senior citizen care.

The Arts, Culture and Leisure

Radebeul is well-known beyond its borders for its profile in art and culture. Not only the famous Karl May Museum, but also the “Museum Zeitreise”, the “Weinbaumuseum Hofloessitz” as well as Schloss Wackerbarth castle await their visitors. The charming landscape is just an invitation to actively recreate there. And a glass of the popular and lovely Saxon wine is as enjoyable as the experience of a walk through the vineyards.

The cultural and sports centre of the Town of Radebeul is in the immediate vicinity to the Radebeul Science and Technology Centre, including the main building of the theatre “Landesbühnen Sachsen” and the sports and leisure centre “Krokofit”.

Commercial Trade, Restaurants and Hotels

Radebeul has at its disposal good and abundant shopping facilities in both its town centres. Altkötzschenbroda with its restaurants, pubs, cute little shops, hotels and boarding houses has become a real treasure that is not only known to insiders any more. Radebeul restaurants offering both national and international cuisine will spoil the gourmet.

Visitors to the town looking for accommodation can choose from among numerous hotels and boarding houses, and individual rooms will provide the right flair for each conference or seminar.
